TERMS OF SERVICE AND IMPORTANT DISCLOSURES

Please read the following terms and conditions of the consultation services to be provided by Chris Martenson, with particular attention to the important disclosures and disclaimers contained herein. If you understand and agree to be bound by the terms, conditions and disclaimers set forth in this document, please acknowledge by signing where indicated below.

The purpose of the consultation is to help you to become better educated about financial and economic markets and their functioning, and their implications related to lifestyle. Chris will discuss strategies and will help you further your education and understanding about economic and financial systems, trends, institutions, and vehicles, but his services should not be interpreted as investment advice, an endorsement of any security or commodity, or personal investment advice. Chris is not a certified financial planner, a licensed investment advisor, or a broker-dealer. He will not reference particular shares, investment vehicles or other specific financial products with regard to buy or sell recommendations. He will help you understand and become educated about these potential vehicles but will not solicit or offer to buy or sell any security, or otherwise assist you with purchase or sale recommendations or specific timings. If you request, Chris can recommend certified financial planners familiar with his preferred investment strategies should you seek more specific guidance.

Investing involves substantial risk. Before investing, you should be aware that you may sustain a total loss of value of your investments and transaction costs. You should carefully consider whether such investments are suitable for you in light of your financial condition. Before investing, you should first consult a personal financial advisor and conduct your own research and due diligence.

Chris does not make any guarantee or other promise as to the results that may be obtained in the event you invest in gold or other securities or commodities. To the maximum extent permitted by law, Chris disclaims any and all liability in the event any information, strategies or educational materials he provides to you in the consultations prove to be inaccurate, incomplete or unreliable, or result in any investment or other losses. In no event shall Chris be held liable for any direct, indirect, consequential or incidental damages arising out of any decisions made by you or actions taken by you in reliance on the information and strategies provided by Chris, whether or not caused in whole or in part by his negligence.

The information, strategies and educational materials provided by Chris are subject to change at any time without notice, based on changes in the financial markets, currency fluctuations, political change and other factors.

Chris maintains investment positions in gold and silver and receives advertising/affiliate revenue from several gold storage companies which will be disclosed if the arise during the conversation.
